Joe Cassidy's Irish welcome, labeled founder, not winemaker of 2020.

Joe arrived from County Clare in 1976 and built an 80-acre Suisun Valley estate with vineyards, a winery, brewery, distillery, and gathering rooms. The greeting is Cead Mile Failte. He is the founder. Adrian Guerrero joined as winemaker and brewer in 2024. Guerrero did not make this 2020.

Blocks B and C, Clone 337, 18 months, 30 percent French oak.

This 2020 is 100 percent estate Cabernet Sauvignon from Blocks B and C, planted to Clone 337. Eighteen months with 30 percent French oak. Fruit first, oak as seasoning. The estate planting is 44 acres of Clone 337. Heritage Vine is a different wine: Clone 7 from Blocks A and B. Suisun Valley, where the west wind blows, sits against the Vaca range and cools with delta air.

JOE CASSIDY

County Clare · Suisun Valley · Cead Mile Failte

Joe arrived from County Clare in 1976 with a few tools on his belt. He delivered pizzas for an Irish cousin in San Francisco, then built a residential development firm in the Bay Area. The estate in Suisun Valley is the house he wanted guests to walk into: winery, brewery, distillery, and gathering rooms on eighty acres. The name is Gaelic. Bally from baile na, place of. Keal for villages or farmsteads. The greeting over the door is Cead Mile Failte, one hundred thousand welcomes. Ogham stones carved in Ireland to spell Bally Keal sit on the grounds and on the label. The photograph on this page is Joe at the estate doors, hard hat on, Century Builders polo. He is the founder. He is not presented as the winemaker of the 2020 or 2021 Cabernet. Adrian Guerrero joined that cellar in 2024.

2020 IN THE GLASS

The 2020 is 100 percent estate Cabernet Sauvignon from Blocks B and C, Clone 337. Cassis and boysenberry lead, with red raspberry and black cherry giving a broader, lifted range. Full-bodied Cabernet weight is held by fine, balanced tannin rather than hard edges. Eighteen months with 30 percent French oak adds a long, gently sweet finish while leaving the fruit in front. That elevation is the 2020 record. Do not paste the 2021 winery paragraph over it. Serve 60 to 64 F. About 30 minutes of air.
