

2022 Estate Cabernet • Grosgrain

Matt Austin. Punk guitar, tax law, then the cellar. Matt left a tax desk. Kelly left fashion in Los Angeles. They won a rundown Walla Walla property at auction. He studied enology at the Northwest Wine Academy, then cellar master at Dunham Cellars. This 2022 is the first

James Suckling on the 2022: earthy mineral notes of iodine, leather and red fruit. Medium-bodied. Fresh, crunchy and delicious, with very fine, succulent tannins. Bright red currant, ripe mulberry, cedar box, toasted spice, and a streak of crushed pencil shaving. Not a heavy Washington Cabernet. Serve a
