TOP SELLING POINTS

Art Finkelstein built Whitehall Lane, then walked away.

Art and his brother built Whitehall Lane in the 1970s. Art left that larger house because the grind had eaten the passion, and built something smaller. Judd's Hill, 1989, named for his son Judd. About 3,000 cases a year.

Founder's Art is the barrel selection named for Art.

A different artwork on the label each year. Barrels chosen from the top of the tasting. Art died in 2010. Every vintage since carries his name. Eric Lyman, Navy veteran, winemaker since 2016. Alex Young alongside.

JUDD FINKELSTEIN

Judd's Hill · named for Judd · family Napa Cabernet since 1989

Art Finkelstein was an architect in Los Angeles before he was a Napa winemaker. Whitehall Lane first, then he walked away at 30,000 cases and built something smaller. Judd's Hill, 1989, 14 hillside acres, no more than 3,000 cases a year. The winery is named for his son Judd. Founder's Art is the reserve named for Art himself. Art died in 2010. Judd and Holly run the house. Eric Lyman, Navy veteran, has made the wine since 2016. Alex Young is alongside. 2021 was a Napa year James Suckling called an apex vintage. This bottle does not carry a locked critic score of its own. The 2021 Founder's Art is 84 percent Cabernet Sauvignon with Franc, Petit Verdot, Syrah, and Merlot. Eighteen months, 13 percent new French oak. 14.7 percent alcohol.

2021 IN THE GLASS

Pretty in a way that sneaks up. First taste is good. Second taste is the one. Ripe dark black cherry, then black plum, blackcurrant, light pencil shaving, boysenberry through the back half. Full-bodied with breadth, not extracted power. Smooth tannins start to finish. Serve near 62 F.

84% Cabernet Sauvignon · 6% Cabernet Franc, 4% Petit Verdot, 4% Syrah, 2% Merlot · 18 months, 13% new French oak · 14.7% ABV · Napa Valley

PAIRING AND SERVICE

Pan-seared ribeye with rosemary · Herb roast chicken · A family steak night that does not need a trophy speech

Serve near 62 F in a Bordeaux glass. Smooth tannins. A 20 minute decant if you want the pencil shaving to catch up with the black cherry.
