

2021 Vieilles Vignes · Domaine de la Janasse

Aimé built the cellar. Christophe has run it since 1991. Aimé Sabon came home from military service in 1967, took back family vines from the cooperative and the negociant, and built his own cellar in 1973. He named the domaine for the family farm at La Janasse in Courthezon.

The winery calls Vieilles Vignes its flagship, always at the top of international rankings. Dark robe with purple reflections. On the nose, still-discreet crushed black fruits and garrigue, waiting to melt into a noble, fresh substance. Finesse and elegance on the palate. Keep it; the house pairs it
